The Pink Singers – Much To Be Done

The rooftop at Bold Tendencies is home to the billboard artwork "Untitled" (1989) by artist Felix Gonzalez-Torres (b. 1967, Cuba d. 1996, USA). First displayed in Sheridan Square in New York across from the Stonewall Inn, it is a commemoration of the Stonewall Uprising that followed a police raid on the bar in 1969, sparking widespread demonstrations in response to human rights injustices and the lack of government action surrounding the AIDS epidemic. The Pink Singers, founded in 1983, is the longest-running LGBT+ choir in Europe.
